As Windows 8.1 and Windows 10 don't have 3 digit Windows XP Product Key Code (like Windows 7, Windows 8 and Windows Server 2008). All Windows Vista and Windows XP have 4-digit product key code. I've made a research about this matter before because I wanted to change my product key code and I tried many times to renew my product key. I've wasted time for my PC, multiple failed downloads and my work more stressful because all my PC's product key doesn't work. So for people who don't know about this issue and searching about product key code, I will post some useful links to know about product key code. These links will be useful for all device users.
