Q: adding a custom item to an ObservableCollection I am trying to add a custom item to an observableCollection but it doesn't seem to be working. This is what i am trying:

```
public CompositionMenu() { InitializeComponent(); CompositionMenuList.Add(new CompositionMenuItem(Properties.Resources.completecompositionmenu));
} public ObservableCollection CompositionMenuList { get; set; } public class
CompositionMenuItem : MenuItem { public ImageImageview
CompositionMenuIcon { get; set; } public
CompositionMenuItem(ImageImageview compositionMenuIcon) {
CompositionMenuIcon = compositionMenuIcon; } } I've tried to figure out why this isn't working. A: You have to call Refresh() method for ObservableCollection to use new elements. You may also bind the collection's
Count property to control if there are new elements or not. public ObservableCollection CompositionMenuList { get; set; } = new ObservableCollection(); public CompositionMenu() { InitializeComponent(); CompositionMenuList.Add(new CompositionMenuItem(Properties.Resources.completecompositionmenu));
CompositionMenuList.Refresh(); } Washington (CNN) -- Call it a spring

Download Windows 7 Ultimate Retail Edition Pro 32.Q: Counting how many items are in a list I want to count how many items are in a list in.NET and I've seen a lot of solutions using Linq but I wanted to try and solve it using a Regex.Replace/Regex.ReplaceAll etc. The code I currently have looks like this: string pattern = @"^([a-z0-9]+) (\d+)/((pp|pc)$)"; Regex regex = new Regex(pattern); string count = Regex.Replace(line, pattern, m => "Count: $1/$2"); count = count.Trim(); I don't know where to go from here. What is the proper syntax for `Regex.Replace`? I want to have a list of string to my class like: `Class Test { int Item {get; set;} int Count {get; set;} }` I want to be able to have this output to a list like so: `Class Test { int Item = 5; int Count = 8 }` A: You can use the `match count`

`int i = Regex.Matches(line, pattern).Count;` Note the `i` is the count and not the first match. You can retrieve the first by using the `First` method. Note you can use it without having to specify the value of `pattern`. `int i =`

`Regex.Matches(line, @"([a-z0-9]+)(\d+)/(\pp|pc)").Count;` A: You don't need to go through the whole thing with `Regex.Replace`, just use the `Match's` count: `string count = Regex.Replace(line, pattern, m => m.Value);` [Intraspecific polymorphism of D. akodon R. in the south of Russia].
