NETGATE 3D Capture for Windows.NETGATE 3D Capture for Windows Full Version.Statistical analysis of contrast-enhanced harmonic power Doppler images of hepatic tumors in relation to their angiographic patterns. Contrast-enhanced harmonic power Doppler imaging (CH-PDI) detects tumor vascularization more accurately than power Doppler imaging (PDI) or conventional color Doppler imaging (C-CDI). Our aim in this study was to correlate the location of tumors and angiographic patterns seen in CH-PDI with the histopathological findings. We examined PDI, C-CDI, and CH-PDI in 114 HCC patients who underwent percutaneous liver biopsy. All images were analyzed to locate the tumors and to detect their vascularization by the CH-PDI. Additionally, the angiographic patterns seen in CH-PDI were compared with those of the histopathology. Of the 114 patients, CH-PDI detected 108 tumors (95%), conventional Doppler detected 89 (78%), and PDI detected 61 (53%) (P \-
