It lies at the valley's edge on a ridge overlooking the neighbouring town of Camp de Pedreguer. Design The park's design was drawn up by Joan Miró in the mid 1950s, when he was commissioned to design the park for the well-known musician Antonio Pascual as a personal and private enterprise. He completed his work in 1956, with the planning of the bottom terrains including the lake, which he actually commissioned from the building and civil engineering company González, de Clera y Larzac. The majority of the park is made up of cliffs and small rock formations. There are numerous pathways and trails which access the park from various points in the surrounding countryside. Geography The park is owned and run by the Park del Pi Consortium, which comprises the municipality, the Compostela Valley Council and the Fondation de l'Art dels Pirineus Oeste, a foundation of the Universal Olympian and Paralympian Committee for the Training of Athletes, the Spanish Physical Education Union, and the Royal Spanish Football Federation. Location The park is located around from both the town of Sant Vicenç de Cadí and the town of Camp de Pedreguer.
